NATIONAL SEMINAR On	PROFILE OF DEPARTMENT	The Indian election is without doubt the largest electoral exercise in the democratic world. It is largest in terms of the sheer numbers involved as well as in terms of administrative apparatus required to conduct the polls. When elections are ongoing they are not just routinely discussed, they are passionately analyzed, A remarkable development of India story has been that election results are accepted by winners and losers alike, leading to peaceful orderly transfer of power.
Ideas of India @ 75 : Revisiting Journey of Great Indian Elections	The department offers Political Science Honours and Political Science as an elective subject at graduation level. Department has organised various activities on 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav', SVEEP Programme in 2019 Lok Sabha Elections and Punjab Assembly Elections in 2022. Twice it had arranged visit to Punjab Vidhan Sabha, Chandigarh for students to observe proceedings of the House. Throughout the years department celebrates all days of National and International importance. Patriotic week (23 Jan to 30th Jan) is a regular feature of the department.	What makes India's General Elections and political parties reaffirming their faith in it is the magnitude, the unfathomable diversity, the form or content or a mixture of all these. Our Indian election system offered marginalized groups a democratic route towards empowerment. Another initiative was Constitutional provisions for reserving seats for SC & ST, offering them participation in governance. Democracy cannot function in a vacuum. When looking at India's journey at Political level from making Indian Constitution workable, conducting elections, running Parliament and State Legislatures, we have witnessed many ups and downs. So our purpose is to engage intellectual and scholars on political achievements of India with special reference to journey of electoral democracy. We believe that such exercise offer clues to how a ravaged postcolonial country rose to the pedestal of progress.
